President’s Letter

Dear Friends,

Forty years; 400 members.

In 2013, when the Board of the Friends of the Pacific Grove Library set a goal of 400 members for 2014, our membership stood at 250. At the end of the first quarter of 2014, our members now number 350. One hundred new Friends is nothing to sneeze at. And, as far as can be determined, it is the highest number of members in our history. But, frankly, it is not where I hoped we would be at this point. I wanted to break 400 by December, 2013, and tickle 500 by December, 2014.

Why is growth important?

First, the money generated from memberships is the Friends’ most reliable income source. Some years we receive very generous donations from Library supporters; other years are leaner. But, generous donations or not, the Library depends on the Friends every year—to fund acquisitions, programs for the community, and, often, unexpected expenses.

Second, one measure of our community’s commitment to our Library is the health of the organizations that support it. One measure of the health of the Friends is the size of its membership.

Third, with a robust and growing membership, the Friends has more clout as an advocate for the Library. The dark days when the Library was open only 24 hours a week are no longer. But the time will almost certainly come when the president of the Friends will have to address the City Council on behalf of the Library. The larger the number of people the Friends president represents, the more difficult the Friends of the Library is to ignore.

In short, the Library needs more Friends. Ask one of your friends to become one.

Marita’s Business Spotlight

Marita moved her eponymous women’s clothing store to its prominent location on Lighthouse five years ago. Her specialty was and remains comfortable, stylish clothes for women of all sizes. An added plus is a selection of interesting jewelry, much of it from local artists. Shortly after the move, she acquired a shoe store almost next door. Again, the focus is on comfort— but not at the sacrifice of style. Now Marita is expanding again. In early April, a new men’s clothing store opened on Fountain, just steps from the Library. Visit one or all of these establishments and tell Marita you appreciate her support for the Library.
Monterey County Gives! and Community Access

The Friends closed out 2013 with our participation in the annual Monterey County Gives! campaign. The goal of this fundraising effort was to support the development of Library access. The Library staff has taken this idea and run with it, planning a project that draws simultaneously on the expertise of Pacific Grove High School students and the experiences of our older community members.

Groups of high school students will collect and produce oral histories from some of our most esteemed elders. The students will guide the process from start to completion—choosing which elders to interview, creating a storyline, finalizing script, filming, and editing. The finished product will be posted on both the Library and high school websites. The application process begins in April, so the students will be trained and ready to begin when school starts in August.

Book Signing – April 24

Pacific Grove children’s librarian Alison Jackson is pleased to announce the publication of her thirteenth book for young readers, WHEN THE WIND BLEW (Henry Holt, Inc.). Written as a sequel to her popular picture book, IF THE SHOE FITS, the story describes what happens to the cradle in the treetop when a particularly strong gust of wind blows the baby—cradle and all—onto the roof of the old woman in the shoe!

Publishers Weekly says, “It is all told in verse rhymed with grace—verve, even—illustrated with soft, ballooning figures.” Adds Kirkus Reviews: “Jackson puts nursery-world elements together like a jigsaw puzzle, assembling smart rhymes and clever scenarios.” And Booklist writes “Youngsters familiar with traditional nursery rhymes will delight in meeting old friends in this what-happens-next adventure. Great fun for grown-ups and little ones alike.”

The Pacific Grove Public Library will be hosting a “celebration and book-signing party” for Ms. Jackson on Thursday afternoon, April 24, from 3–5 p.m. All of her books will be available for purchase, along with copies of WHEN THE WIND BLEW.

Pacific Grove Public Library Foundation (PGPLF) Welcomes New Board Member.

Noreen Nance joined the Foundation’s Board of Directors in January 2014, bringing considerable financial experience. She was a finance manager at a Bay Area high-tech company. Later in her career, she conducted corporate financing training before retiring to Pacific Grove in 2000. Shortly thereafter, as president of the Friends of the Pacific Grove Library, Noreen led the fundraising efforts that raised $800,000 to add a community room to the Library. Unfortunately, the project ran into opposition and was shelved.

Noreen’s financial background is particularly useful because the main purpose of the Foundation is to develop a permanent fund from large donations and bequests. Once the fund assets have grown to the point where they can provide a stable income source, the Foundation will be able to augment public funding of the library to meet long-term goals, such as major programs and improving and expanding the physical structure of the library.

In addition to her involvement with the Library, Noreen has served on the Advisory Board of the Monterey Salvation Army and is currently a volunteer at the Pacific Grove Chamber of Commerce. Her favorite hobbies are reading (of course!), golf, quilting, hiking, and travel. Welcome, Noreen.

News from the LAB
The Pacific Grove Library Advisory Board (LAB) has been working on a survey for anyone who lives, works, goes to school, or spends time in the Pacific Grove area. We want to assess how people use the library, how often, and what services they like or want more of. We also want to hear from those who don’t use the library to see what would encourage them to be patrons. We hope to have the survey available in the next few months and are working to finalize the survey itself as well as the communications plan. Stay tuned!

1907 and 1908
Most residents of Pacific Grove know that the oldest portion of the library’s structure is a “Carnegie library”; that is, it is one of the libraries built with funds provided by Andrew Carnegie. Few residents know the backstory revealed in correspondence discovered in our local history archive.

In 1907—after, apparently, Carnegie had promised $10,000 to Pacific Grove—the President of the Library Board of Directors wrote him to ask for more money. “For some months past we have been endeavoring to obtain favorable bids and prices on our Library building, but in vain. Our plans and specifications are based on those of a building which was constructed, less than two years ago, for $9700.00. The lowest bid we have been able to receive is over $15000.00 . . . We earnestly request that you increase our building allowance, and promise that we will do credit to your generosity.”

Carnegie’s personal secretary responded, “Better see what you can do with the $10,000 and ascertain just what amount is needed . . . before you call on Mr. Carnegie to add to his donation.”

Time passes and apparently correspondence continues, although no copies of it exist. In the next letter from Carnegie’s personal secretary, he makes his displeasure obvious “. . . [W]hy did you go on with the building you knew you had not the money to pay for?”

The new President of the Library Board of Directors writes back, “. . . [B]etter see what you can do . . .’, by inference at least, would seem to warrant us in believing that we might hope for assistance if we found ourselves in the financial situation that we are to-day.” He concludes hopefully, “Pacific Grove has a Library building that citizens . . . speak of in the highest terms. What we greatly need is books. If Mr. Carnegie could see his way . . .”

Recent Author Events

The Friends sponsored two very popular author events in the first quarter of 2014.

On January 19, a sell-out crowd of 200 enthusiastic readers and writers greeted acclaimed mystery writer Anne Perry at Chautauqua Hall. In honor of the Victorian setting for two of Perry’s series, some in the crowd were dressed in period costume. And in acknowledgement of her wide appeal, some came from as far away as Turlock.

Perry delighted her audience with her willingness to connect. After her talk, in which she spoke with considerable passion about the writing process, she signed her books for anyone desiring her signature. (The new owner of Bookworks was on hand to sell copies of Perry’s books.) Then, two days later, Perry had tea at Crema with four lucky winners of the drawing at her talk. Reports from this event were glowing—about Perry’s warmth as well as the locale.

On February 27, 150 people swamped the Pacific Grove Library to hear Betty and Mike Sproule talk about their book, The Stuff Cure: How We Lost 8,000 Pounds of Stuff for Fun, Profit, Virtue, and a Better World.

The Sproules offered some rules of thumb to help decide what to keep and what to discard. The audience appreciated the light touch that the authors bring to their topic. Laughter often filled the Library, and people left hopeful about their own chances of paring down.

Brady Herzog at the Library:

THURSDAY, APRIL 17 – 7:30 - 9:00 p.m.

On April 17, P.G. author Brad Herzog presented his two newest books. My Mantelpiece is the coauthored memoir of the late Carolyn Goodman, mother of one of three civil rights volunteers murdered in Mississippi in 1964. Francis and Eddie is Herzog’s latest children’s book, and it celebrates the 1913 U.S. Open, when unknown amateur golfer Francis Ouimet and his 10-year-old caddie Eddie Lowery, shocked the world and transformed the sport.
